

Weekly Racing Challenge Official Rules

The Registration Process

Each participant must complete the registration process to become eligible to play. The registration is a simple process that involves filling out your contact information, team name creation, and password selection.

Once you create a member ID (your email address), choose a password, and select your team name, you will then be directed to your home page inside the game.

Object Of The Game

The object of the Weekly Racing Challenge is to try and select the perfect top 10 finish for any given race. Selecting a perfect top 10 finish means predicting the exact top 10 finish order of a particular race. Each week, participants strive for this goal

The Pro Driver Pool

The main table on the page is the driver pool and represents the professional Stock Car drivers who are eligible to be selected. The Pro Driver Pool can be sorted by their name or type of car (A to Z, or visa-verse). Each driver in the Pro Driver Pool has a profile page which can be viewed on the Driver Profile tab just above the Driver Pool table.

Once you have made the changes to your team and clicked on the "confirm changes" button, your trades will be entered into our system. You can verify that these changes were made by going to your home page or to the My Picks page (located on the blue navigation bar) and clicking on My Picks. Your changes will be reflected instantly if you have completed the changes before the weekly race.

The picks deadline is on every Sunday 1pm (EST). On occasions there are races held before Sunday at 1pm ET, users must select their top 10 before the race (on that particular day) begins. Once the race begins, you will not be able to remove drivers from your team.

Selecting Your Weekly Top 10 Drivers

Weekly top 10 selections are made on the Make Picks page. To make a driver selection, simply "drag-n-drop" the driver from the Driver Pool to the Driver table (on the top right of the page) and place the driver in the row with the corresponding number of your predicted finish for that race. You can re-order your drivers at any time by using the same "Drag-n-drop" method.

Once you have the drivers in your preferred order of finish, click the confirm button and your selections are entered into the system. All selections must be finalized by the start of the race in order to be processed.

You may now follow the same steps above whenever you wish to make more changes. However--You must click the "confirm changes" button after making your team changes in order to make your changes final in our system. You can verify that these changes were made by going to your home page or to the My Picks page (located on the blue navigation bar) and clicking on My Picks. Your changes will be reflected instantly if you have completed the changes before the weekly race.

For your convenience, your drivers roll over each week. So, if you forget to make your picks, you will be scored from your top 10 driver list from the previous week.

Game Participant Profiles

Each registered member will have a game participant profile. This will be accessible by clicking on their team name throughout the game. The participant profile will be a text based window where a driver can write a paragraph or so about them selves, they can give a quote, choose an avatar image (pre-loaded Dell Sports images), and state their favorite driver. It will also detail their Owner rating, their weekly performance, and display a link to send them a private message.

Game Scoring

All of the participants playing in the Weekly Racing Challenge use the same scoring method. Each week, we take the actual performance from the pro drivers and score their performance using the scoring chart below. See the scoring chart below. NOTE- The scoring is based on the driver finish and NOT the car finish, as some cars will have multiple drivers over the season.

Weekly Racing Challenge Scoring Table
Predicting Driver That Finishes In The Top 10 = 100 Points/Driver

Actual Driver Finish	Bonus Points Scale
	Top 10 Finish	Exact Finish Bonus	Total Points Awarded
1st Place	100	80	180
2nd Place	100	70	170
3rd Place	100	65	165
4th Place	100	60	160
5th Place	100	55	155
6th Place	100	50	150
7th Place	100	46	146
8th Place	100	42	142
9th Place	100	38	138
10th Place	100	34	134

Example-

1. You select Jeff Gordon to finish in 3rd place. He actually finishes in 7th. You receive 100 points because he finished anywhere in the top 10. However, there is no bonus awarded for Jeff Gordon because you did not predict his exact finish.
2. You select Jeff Gordon to finish 10th and he actually finishes 10th. You receive 100 points because he finished in the top 10. You also receive a 34 point bonus because you predicted his exact finish.

Standings

Standings will detail the highest weekly scores for the local contest. Each media partner determines the local winner and the grand prize winner if stated or offered. Typically, the overall winner for the contest will be based on the Highest Single Week Score for the entire racing season. In addition to competing amongst your friends, you also compete against all of the local participants. In a local game, there may be many groups. Your local provider may attach prizes to the local winners. Call your local provider for more prize details. Updated standings will be available every Monday, unless unforeseen problems arise.

Winning the Weekly Racing Challenge

The top 50 highest single week scores are posted in the Contest Leader's section. Participants are also ranked according to cumulative season points for informational purposes. However, the team with the highest single week score during the season wins the grand prize (if stated or offered). In the event of a tie between two (2) or more entries, the winning entry will be determined by the following tiebreakers, in order of listing:

- Tiebreaker #1 – Most Drivers In The Top 10
- Tiebreaker #2 – Most Correctly Predicted Exact Finish Drivers
- Tiebreaker #3 – Highest Exact Finish Driver
- Tiebreaker #4 – Random Drawing.

In all cases, an entry that does not win a tiebreaker is eliminated from consideration. Odds of winning prizes depend on the total number of eligible entries received and the relative U.S. racing knowledge of all Entrants.

Perfect Week Prize:

This contest will feature a "Perfect Week Prize" which will reward $1,000 US Dollars to any user who picks a valid perfect top 10 finish in advance of the selected race. Selecting a valid perfect top 10 finish means predicting the exact top 10 finish order of a particular race.
